About OEE

Overall Equipment Effectiveness (OEE) is the heart of operational process improvement. It is closely linked to labor costs, production scheduling and capacity management. Already low OEE levels may drop even further due to installation of serialization & aggregation equipment, requiring proactive management. ARC OEE Module is a cost-effective means of measuring and improving line efficiency by uncovering line-specific best practices. The module combines ARC OEE Adapter and OEE Tracker from Supply Chain Wizard to establish a performance driven culture in packaging and manufacturing operations.
